BIG DAY AT FAIR UP TO STANDARD

If Predicted Showers Held Off, Fair
Managers Expected Two More
Good Days.

FAIR IS BETTER THAN USUAL

Class of Entries in All Departments,
Free Attractions and Races Are
Raising the Standard.

If the predicted showers will hold off, the Rush county fair managers expected this morning to hold two more good days of the fair. Thursday was up to normal for the big day of the fair and it was hoped that Friday and Saturday would keep up the standard set by Thursday.

Some of the best part of the race program was to come when the fair opened for the fourth day this morning. It was expected to attract many of the speed fans. The fox chase was announced Thursday afternoon, to take place this afternoon. There were ten entries up to Thursday night.

This year's fair is being pronounced the best one in years because of the class of entries in all classes and because of the unusually good free attractions. There isn't any doubt but that fair patrons are receiving more for their money this year than ever before.

A crowd estimated at between two and three thousand people was on the ground Thursday night, which is by far the largest number of persons ever attending a night fair. The fireworks and other free attractions brought the people. Many remained on the grounds all day, not returning home until late at night.

News of the excellent fireworks display Wednesday night spread Thursday and was the cause of many persons attending the night fair Thursday night. The display was equally as good Thursday night as Wednesday night and caused the fair board to be commended for making possible such a praiseworthy free attraction.

The high dive took place Thursday night as scheduled and there was also a show of farm teams, light harness horses with women drivers and ponies. The tying of the ribbons in each class brought forth much applause.

The races this year are another thing that contribute much toward making the fair more popular than usual. Every heat is a horse race, and because of the larger purses, the fields are larger and the competition keener. The program this afternoon included the county road pace for a purse of fifty dollars, the 2:16 trot for two hundred and fifty dollars and the 2:25 pace for a purse of five hundred dollars.

The parade of premium winners around the big track at the conclusion of the show program today was the signal for the usual large crowd that is always interested in seeing the blue ribbon winners. The cattle classes were better this year than they have been for years, due to the fact that there were four large herds here to show. The horse classes have been up to the standard.

In no department has the excellency of the fair shown more than in the display in the floral hall. Every class is filled with exceptionally fine entries, making the competition so keen that the premiums were not all awarded until long after the time for conclusion, as arranged for on the program. Many persons familiar with the women's department declare that they doubt if there was ever a better display of needle work seen at the state fair. Floral hall

PROPER SCHOOL START IS NEEDED

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Makes Appeal in Behalf of People

DISCUSSES TRUANCY CASES

Says Members of Board Wish to
Urge School Officials to Get
Children Started Right

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has made a public appeal to the school patrons and others connected with the schools of the state. The appeal is intended to raise the general standard of the schools of Indiana during the year 1915-16. The appeal follows:

"At the beginning of the new school year a special effort should be made by parents, teachers and school authorities to see to it that all children of school age are enrolled at the very beginning of the school term and properly provided with books and supplies. Children who are given such an opportunity at the very opening of school will, in the vast majority of cases, become interested and attend school regularly throughout the school year and do satisfactory work.

"Children who are not given the opportunity of the right kind of a beginning very soon become discouraged, either being ahead, or because, not provided with the necessary books and supplies they become embarrassed and discouraged and naturally fail early in the term.

"To have all children in school at the opening of the term, provided with books, is not only a very important but a very difficult problem. On this account school authorities should have the hearty co-operation of teachers and parents.

"The members of truancy (Mr. Greathouse is a member of this new state board) wish to urge county and city superintendents at their opening institutes to give special attention to the matter of getting all children properly started. Superintendents and teachers, of course understand that the problem of dealing with truant children is one which needs careful study and very wise and patient treatment.

"It is impossible to deal with this subject in a wholesale manner. Each case is a special one and requires individual study. A too liberal use of force and of the courts will drive from school permanently many children who otherwise could be saved to the schools and themselves by proper encouragement."

WERE ROUNDING UP A GANG

Police Arrested one and Expected to

He was caught and brought to jail this afternoon by Special Policeman VanSickle. No charges had been placed against him late this afternoon.

MULL'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD HERE

Native of Rush County Who Expired
Unexpectedly in Indianapolis
Thursday Will be Buried Here.

BORN IN MANILLA IN 1868

George Mull Dies of Acute Nephritis
Brought on by Slight Injury
Sustained to Hand.

The body of George F. Mull, age forty-six years, who died at Methodist hospital in Indianapolis Thursday afternoon, was removed to the Mull homestead in Manilla today where funeral services will be held. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery here. The services will take place Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, with the Rev. V. W. Tevis in charge.

Mr. Mull's death was a big surprise here. Few people here knew that he was even in the hospital, much less in a serious condition. His demise was due to acute nephritis which developed from blood poisoning brought on by a bruise which Mr. Mull sustained a little less than three weeks ago while moving a desk in his office in Indianapolis.

Mr. Mull was born in Manilla, December 7, 1868, and he received his early education in the common schools of Rush county. Later he attended DePauw University, from which he was graduated in 1892. He was graduated from the Yale Law School in 1893, and after his graduation he went to Indianapolis. He read law in the office of W. A. Ketcham for a year and in 1895 he formed a partnership for the practice of the legal profession with Frank T. Edenharter.

Mr. Mull and Mr. Edenharter maintained law offices in the Indiana Trust Company Building and practiced under the firm name of Edenharter & Mull continuously since 1895 until about a month ago, when the partnership was dissolved and Mr. Mull opened an office with Louis H. C. Flinn at 512 Indiana Trust Building.

Mr. Mull had long been an active worker in the ranks of the Republican party, but he never held public office or aspired to any. He was president of the Columbia Club in 1904 and he was treasurer of the Marion County Republican central committee for several years. Mr. Mull also was a Scottish Rite Mason and a member of Murat Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Indianapolis. He was also a member of the Social club here.

In the days of his early practice in Indianapolis Mr. Mull was very active socially, and he enjoyed great popularity. He was one of the organizers of the Aquatic Club, in Indianapolis, a pioneer among the organizations taking advantage of sites on White River for summer recreation.

Mr. Mull never married. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Mull; two brothers, Thomas H. and Leonidas Mull, and a sister, Mary M. Mull, of Manilla. He was a brother of the late Frank Mull of this city.

"Mr. Mull was an amiable man and had a personality that caused him to be well liked," said Mr. Edenharter yesterday. "Mr. Mull had a particularly desire to be helpful in every way he could to his clients."

Dr. James H. Taylor, an intimate friend of Mr. Mull, attended him in his illness. Dr. Taylor said that Mr. Mull had been in failing health for several months, but that he would not have died if the infection from the recent accident had not caused complications in his disease. The

THOUGHT NOT TO BE SERIOUS

(By United Press.)

Anderson, Ind., August 27.—Dale J. Crittenger, auditor of state and editor of the Anderson Bulletin, was painfully injured today following an auto accident at midnight. The auto in which he was riding with Mayor H. Mellett, State Senator Fred Van Nuys, Representative Lynfield Myers and Deputy Clerk Wesley Sheppard overturned when they were returning from a meeting at Elwood.

Crittenger suffered severe bruises about the chest. He was hurried to this city and taken to his home. It was thought no bones were broken and that no internal injuries resulted. His right leg was wrenched at the knee and he suffered a nervous shock.

Mayor Mellett, who was the first to extricate himself from the wreck, lifted the car enough to release Van Nuys. The motor was still running and the lights were on.

SATISFACTION IN FULL OFFERED

Ambassador Bernstorff Lets it be
Known What Berlin's Attitude
of Arabic Sinking is.

DANGER OF FRICTION OVER

If Torpedoed by German Submarine,
Commander Exceeded His Authority, it is Stated.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, August 27.—German Ambassador Bernstorff today assured Secretary Lansing that if a German submarine torpedoed the liner Arabic, its commander exceeded his instructions, and "full satisfaction" would be accorded the United States.

It was learned today on unofficial but unquestionable authority that following points will be made by the Berlin government in its statement to the administration:

It was never German's policy to torpedo passengers-carrying ships without warning.

German submarine commanders were always instructed to let those on board escape before sinking a merchantman.

If any submarine commander did otherwise he acted contrary to orders.

If this were not true the destruction of unarmed enemy merchantmen would have been greater.

This information, in part at least, has already reached the state department. Ambassador Bernstorff remarked that the offer of "full satisfaction" was considerably further than Germany had hitherto gone. He plainly considered all danger of German-American friction over.

Considerable confidential information from Ambassador Gerard, Berlin, was reaching the state department today, Secretary Lansing.

German Ambassador Bernstorff called at the state department at 10:05 today for a short talk. He would not discuss the nature of his business or say whether he had received further instructions from Berlin.

What may be regarded as Germany's preliminary explanation of the Arabic sinking was in the hands of the state department today. Its tenor may be known before night.

DANIELS WILL TAKE NEW IDEAS

Secretary of Navy Not Too Proud to Listen to Suggestion For Improving Naval Academy.

IS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

Going to Apply Some "Safety-First" Principles in Examination Rooms.

BY F. A. CONNOLLY.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels isn't too proud to listen to suggestions for improving Uncle Sam's private school for naval officers at Annapolis. The institution is being run on a creditable plan at present, the Navy Department contends, but any idea worth while will receive Mr. Daniel's due consideration. All the late scandal there wouldn't be scandal, it is argued, if the school did not have a good system of government and a fair reputation to uphold.

The late "gouging" revelations, however, have shown there is room for improvement. So the Secretary, realizing that his is not the only Academy in the country, has been trying to find out how the others are run. There are at least fifty other educational establishments where young men are governed by stringent systems. Now the head of the navy figures that in fifty such places there must be some differences in regulations and discipline. If any of them have better than Uncle Sam, he wants to incorporate them into his own. Secretary Daniels has written to the Presidents of these schools asking concerning the rules and practices observed in their institutions.

The Secretary expects these queries to be answered in the course of time and is in no hurry about them. When he gets them all in he will look them over and pick out the ideas that he can use. He will weave the best of those that he can into the Annapolis system and those that he can't he is very apt to ask Congress to weave in for him.

"Gouging" and "Hazing" are going to go. The Secretary is specially interested in the way examinations are conducted elsewhere, and is going to apply some of the safety-first principles in the examination room. The next modern language test won't be cribbed, and the upper class drill masters won't drill under class men in "matter along the lines as the coming exam" the night before that event takes place. If he has to, Mr. Daniels will look the papers in a steel box as soon as they are made up or carry them in his vest pocket to prevent young prospectives from getting at their contents.

Hazing doesn't occur often. There is a law against that and it doesn't matter whether the offense is grave or insignificant, the law is law. Occasionally a first offender gets off with a severe reprimand, but second offenders "get the boot," and they know what to expect. In this respect discipline isn't often broken.

Uncle Sam has been wondering what has become of all the informers. From the Treasury Department recently came the answer, "We're paying them too much money."

Prior to August 21, 1913, one who gave information leading to conviction of a moonshiner received only $10 and was happy. Then the fee was boosted to $50 just to encourage others to give away their lawless neighbors, but strange to say the increase has had a markedly contrary effect. With the business all but gone to the bow-wows, Secretary McAdoo restored the old fee. The result is awaited with interest.

West Virginia produced 71,707,626 tons of coal in 1914, worth about $1 a ton at the mine. No other state did this well.

The United States produced $5,706,787 worth of slate in 1914.

HEARS VOICE ACROSS AMERICA ON PHONE

Mrs. Lenora Blackledge, Who is Attending Exposition, Tells of Unique Experience

SEES TELEPHONE EXHIBIT

While standing on the Pacific seaboard, Mrs. Lenora Blackledge, of this city, who is attending the Panama-Pacific exposition, heard the waves of the Atlantic beating against the shore. She heard them over the telephone. An extract from her letter tells of the unusual experience:

We went to see the Bell telephone exhibit at the fair yesterday. We were there over one hour and heard an illustrated lecture on the Bell telephone and saw how they invented, perfected and built the phone across the deserts and mountains. It is wonderful and ended by all of us putting receivers to our ears. We then called up the operator in New York city 3400 miles away. We heard him read headlines in N. Y. papers about the war in Europe and Mexico. Then we heard the victrola going. Later we heard it play "Old Kentucky Home." We could hear it plainly. Then, here by the Pacific, we heard the waves beating on the shore. Then a girl from the audience talked to an operator in Philadelphia. She invited him to lunch at the Cliff house. We heard every word easily.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these organs, the system, polluting the blood in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes dumpy, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'Sentinel' tablets—that's the key—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver—a clogged bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural healing results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

America First

There is a deepening conviction here that the crisis that confront the nation in its foreign relations demand the subordination of pro-British and pro-German sentiment and the ascendancy of an intrinsically pro-American spirit. And there is unmistakably the development of such an attitude with full consciousness of America's importance in international affairs, which the war has made more evident than ever before.

The outward and visible sign of this pro-American spirit is seen in busy men of affairs going off to the camp at Plattsburg for military training, and in the awakening of the people and the National Administration to the necessity of military and naval preparedness.

It is seen, too, in the increasing insistence of the public upon the preservation of all Nation's neutral rights upon the high seas and the protection of American commerce from illegal interference as well as the defence of American lives.

Instead of two conflicting points of view cropping up irreconcilable in public discussions, it is noticeable more and more that there is only one point of view—the American. The acid point of test of all propositions is how America will be affected—not whether it will serve Allied interest or Teutonic interests.

And this is the test that is being applied unsparingly to the efforts to win popular approval of the contentions of foreign powers. A passing sensation has been created by imagining an organized propaganda and calling frantically for its suppression. But America is not afraid to have any man or nation present its cause to the public, feeling strong in the knowledge that the American public will decide all such questions from the patriotic pro-American point of view.

Not any newspaper, however, powerful it may seem, or however clever in serving a cause, could prevail against the sturdy pro-American sentiment that permeates all the people regardless of their individual origin.

Still They Come.

Philip W. Carter of Newton, Mass., who was one of the organizers of the Progressive party in Massachusetts, and who for the last three years has served as a member of the state committee, as a member of the finance committee, as treasurer of the 13th district congressional committee, and later still as the treasurer of the financial auditing committee, has returned to the Republican fold. Mr. Carter made his purpose known through a letter to a Republican friend. "My reasons for several relations with the Progressive organization at this time are twofold," he wrote.

First of all, it is apparent that the Progressive party is no longer held in respect by the vast majority of the voters in this state. My second reason for leaving the party at this time is my conviction that this is a two party country. I doubt if any third party can ever survive. In the future I look to a line-up of the radicals on the one hand and the conservatives on the other.

"There is no chance to accomplish anything by continuing to act as an 'assistant Democrat' Should I be asked by my old Republican friends why I did not join the Democratic party, in view of the fact that their platform more nearly resembles the Progressive platform. I would reply that I am not joining them, because the Democratic party is at heart more reactionary.

In the presence of this burdensome 'war tax,' we recall with interest the words of Representative Cox of this city, Feb. 21, 1914. Speaking to Mr. Fitzgerald of New York, he asked: 'If this extravagance * * * these enormous appropriations are not stopped in some way, does not the gentlemen believe that in the course of a short time the Government will have to come to a system of direct taxation, such as it had in 1861 to carry on the war?' Democracy surely received timely warning.

The total exports from Leeds England for the six months ended June 30, 1915, amounted to 392,850, as compared with $1,222,957 for the corresponding half year of 1914. The decrease may be said to be almost entirely due to conditions brought about by the European war. Consider how many other towns in Europe are similarly situated, and which, but for the war, would be flooding this country with duty free goods, paralyzing industry and filling the country with idle men.

Representative Carlin of Virginia says the issue next year will not be the tariff, but "the foreign policy of the Administration." He must be mistaken.

Solving Dyestuff Problem

(Washington, D. C. Post)

Not long ago it was reported that large amounts of American capital were ready for the investment in the manufacture of dyestuffs, but large mills continue to close their doors because of the failure to get dyestuffs from Germany.

Great Britain has not yet been persuaded to lift the embargo on the dyes that are awaiting shipment in Germany. Her control of the seas enables her to force the closing of scores of American textile mills. Meanwhile England herself is manufacturing textiles and selling them in competition with the United States. She is using the war for her own commercial advantage and not merely for the purpose of starving out Germany.

It must be clear by this time that the administration, if it wishes Americans to manufacture their own dyestuffs, must meet the situation frankly. There has been a determined effort by administration officials to avoid the obvious necessity of a protective tariff. The various substitutes which have been suggested, such as an antidumping clause which would prevent Germany from deluging the American market as soon as the war is over, do not meet the situation.

The party in power may just as well recognize that capital will not be invested in the manufacture of dyestuffs in this country until there is a protective tariff that will equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. Germany has mastered the art of making dyestuffs. The business is in its infancy in the United States. Aside from the disadvantage of inexperience, there is the additional disadvantage that comes to the Americans by reason of the payment of a higher standard of wages.

Just as the tin plate, silk and other industries have been built up in the United States so can the dyestuff industry be built up. Until the government adopts the remedy which has been used so successfully in the past the country must continue to depend upon the favor of foreign countries.

SLAVERY IN INDIANA

Despite the anti-slavery provision in the Ordinance of 1787, there was a strong sentiment in favor of slavery in Indiana Territory. Gov. W. H. Harrison presided at a convention in Vincennes in 1802 when Congress was asked to suspend prohibition for ten years as slaves were needed to develop the country. The U. S. census returns show that there were 190 slaves in the state in 1820. The last negro slave in Indiana is said to have died in 1843.

KINDRED BODIES ASKED TO HELP

Commercial Organizations Throughout State Urged to Get Behind National Guard Propaganda.

RESOLUTIONS ARE SENT OUT

Particular Stress is Laid on "War in Indiana," Huge Spectacle to be Presented.

Indianapolis, August 27.—Commercial organization throughout the state of Indiana are soon to become active factors in propagating the campaign for a bigger and better national guard which is being conducted by the Indianapolis Army Building Association.

Copies of resolutions endorsing the project, adopted by various Indianapolis trade bodies, including the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, the Employers' Association, the Rotary Club, and the Jovian League, have been forwarded kindred organizations in other cities, in order to enlist their support.

It is felt that the response of these organizations will be generous, inasmuch as the Indianapolis movement is of statewide import, concerning South Bend just as much as it does Vincennes. No city of the state that is not interested in the maintenance of an efficient national guard, with adequate local armories.

Particular stress in the appeal of the Indianapolis association is laid upon "War in Indiana," the huge war spectacle to be staged at the Indianapolis motor speedway, Monday, Sept. 6, for the purpose of releasing the $20,000 appropriated by the state of Indiana for an armory to some other city than Indianapolis.

It is pointed out that not only will "War in Indiana," be the most spectacular event the state has ever seen, with its 2,500 men and 350,000 rounds of ammunition, but that it is held from a particularly unselfish motive as well. Indianapolis business men, it is clearly shown, have the interest of the state very much at heart. It therefore behooves other cities to join them.

AMATEUR CRACKS MEET AT DETROIT

Best Golfers in America Out of Professional Class Will Compete For Championship

MEETING OPENS TOMORROW

Tournament is Blue Ribbon Event of Year in Golf Circles—Notables to Participate

(By United Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—Detroit tomorrow will be host to the crack amateur golfers of America and, in seven days of play, the twenty-first annual championship of the United States Golf association will be determined. The play will be on the Detroit Country club links.

The tournament is the blue ribbon event of the year in golf circles.

A J. Caldwell, secretary of the tournament committee, declared today the entry list is one of the best and largest in the history of the meet. Practically all of the stars in the country will participate, including the following: Jerome D. Travers, "Chick" Evans, Francis Ouimet, W. C. Fownes Jr., G. A. Ormiston, Ned Sawyer, E. H. Bankhard, Harry Davis, R. Y. Hayne, Donald Edwards, Kenneth Edwards, George Lyle, Albert Seckel, Walter Egan and Jimmy Standish.

Of this list, Travers and Fownes are the only former champions, but "Chick" Evans, western amateur champion, Harry Davis, Panama-Pacific title-holder, R. Y. Hayne, coast champion, and Albert Seckel winner of the 1911 western championship, are expected to offer opposition that will make Champton Ouimet show his best to retain the title he annexed last year.

Seven days will be devoted to the playing off of the national championship, the qualifying round starting early tomorrow. Only 18 holes will be played the first day. Monday, the wedding-out process will be continued, but this time over the 36-hole course. Medal play will rule on both days.

Match play for 36-hole rounds will start Tuesday and continue until Friday, when the semi-finals will be reached. The finals will be staged Saturday.

The Country Club course is reported to be in excellent condition for the start of plays. Varden and Ray, the British cracks, have pronounced the course one of the three best in America, ranking it with the Mayfield links, at Cleveland, and the Toronto Ont., course.

The many social activities that will feature the tournament will start tonight when the Country Club will entertain officers of the United States Golf Association at a banquet.

BOOSTING FOOTBALL GAME

Perfect Organization is Formed by Indiana Alumni

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Aug. 27.—Having completed an organization as efficient and thorough as any political organization Charles A. Greathouse who heads the University of Indiana alumni, boosting the Indiana-Washington and Lee football game to be played here Oct. 30, said today that in every county of the state work would be started at once to arouse enthusiasm for the game. Greathouse himself an alumnus of the university has appointed a graduate in each county to round up all the alumni and bring them to Indianapolis for the game, which because of its inter-sectional nature will be one of the biggest games played in the state this fall.

CLOSE FINISHES RULE AT TRACK

Split Heats Mark Races at Rush County Fair Thursday, With Three Good Events on Card.

ONE IS WON IN STRAIGHT HEAT

Spill Results on Back Stretch When One Horse Runs Into Another, But no One is Hurt.

Saturday's Program.
2:20 Trot—Purse $500.
2:12 Pace—Purse $300.
2:17 Pace—Purse $250.

Close finishes and split heats were again the rule at the Rush county fair races Thursday afternoon. The three races on the program were closely contested, but the favorites won in every race but one.

In the 2:30 trot, the stake race for $500, Hesitate was picked as the winner and after taking the first two heats in comparative easy manner, gave way to Lottie DeForest and Westport. The race was won by Lottie DeForest although Westport took the last two heats in a driving finish. Lottie DeForest finished second in all but one heat, the third, when she finished first.

Hesitate apparently was driven faster than she could stand and fell down towards the end of the race. In the fourth heat Lottie DeForest was driven to beat Hesitate and Wasson driving Westport slipped around both of them on the outside of the track and won the heat in a close finish.

In the third heat of the 2:24 trot a spill on the back turn resulted when Virginia Wilkes ran into Gypsy Fuller's sulky. The drivers were not injured. It was the first spill of the meeting.

In the 2:24 trot Richard R. took the race in straight heats after finishing in fourth place the first heat. He got away to a bad start and pulled up in fourth position. The first heat was won by Nellie W. but Richard R., proved the best horse and captured the second, third and fourth heats in a rather easy manner. The Tennessee horse was never forced and made the second heat in 2:21 1/2.

In the 2:30 pace Charles C., had everything his own way and won in straight heats, over a field of eight starters. It was a fight for second money between Minnie Ann and Long Sought. Long Sought was beaten out for second by finishing in sixth place in the second heat. He took second in the first and final heats. The time in each heat was the same it being 2:17 1/2.

The three races were pulled off in good time. The drivers were kept on the move and there were no long delays. The program was finished shortly after five o'clock despite the fact that it was rather long.

The Elks dancing pavilion enjoyed the largest crowds of the fair Thursday afternoon and night.

Recent Law Provides For Institute of Only Township and City School Teachers.

FIRST ONE HERE NEXT WEEK

Due to an oversight of the legislators in the last session of the Indiana general assembly, school teachers in Indiana towns will not have to attend institutes until the law is changed. C. M. George, county superintendent of schools, called attention to the fact today that the law says township and city school teachers shall meet in institute monthly. This eliminates the teachers of the Carthage school, which is the only town school in the county.

The preliminary institute for the teachers of the county will be held in the court house Saturday, September 4, the county superintendent announced today. Indiana and all of its various phases of life will be studied this year. The county superintendent said the subject was selected because 1916 is centennial year in the state. The city school teachers, which means only Rushville teachers in this county, will hold separate institutes, according to the new law.

MORE THAN 200,000 PRISONERS TAKEN

Several Thousand Cannon and Enough Rifles to Supply Army Captured by Germans.

SINCE THE FALL OF WARSAW

(By United Press.)
Berlin, August 27.—More than 200,000 prisoners, several thousand cannon and enough rifles to supply several army divisions have been taken by the Austro-Germans since the fall of Warsaw.

In the past three weeks the Slavs have been driven back more than one hundred miles on their center. All their first line defenses have been captured and the fall of Brest Litovsk leaves only the fortress of Grodno of the second line still in the hands of the grand duke's troops. Grodno's surrender to Von Hindenberg is expected before the end of the week.

For the second time the German admiralty today issued a statement saying the Russian admiralty claim that the battle cruiser Moltke and other German ships have been destroyed in the Gulf Riga was a "fake."

"No such battle took place," the admiralty stated.

AMERICANS INVEST CAPITAL IN CHINA

Amos Bird Company Discovers Dried-Egg Plant in Shanghai is a Good Investment

DUTY CUT IN LAST TARIFF

Washington, Aug. 27.—The Amos Bird Company, a Connecticut concern with head offices at Boston, Mass., has discovered that, under the Democratic tariff law, the establishment of a dried-egg plant in Shanghai, China, is a good investment. The Department of Commerce reports that the company has about completed the construction of a huge cold-storage warehouse containing the most modern evaporating and refrigerating apparatus. All arrangements have been completed for getting supplies of material converting it into the product and transporting it to this country for the use of restaurants and bakeries. It will come into active competition with American eggs.

This adds another to the long list of industries which are being organized abroad with American capital to reap the double advantage of cheap labor and a free, or tariff-for-revenue-only, American market. The duty on dried eggs was cut 33 and one-third per cent by the Underwood tariff law, since the enactment of which enormous quantities of this product have been coming in from China. A recent report issued by the Department of Commerce states that consignments of preserved eggs from Nanking, China, amounted to 7,500,000 pounds for New York City and 656,000 for Seattle. These eggs are purchased in China, for preserving, at 40 to 42 cents a gross.

IS NOW WORLD'S GREATEST LOBBY

Sophia Evolves From Modest Little

Balkan Capital to Bickering Place of Diplomats

POSSIBILITIES EITHER WAY

Allies Offer, Among Other Things, Bulk of Turkish Empire in Europe For Bulgarian Help

BY HENRY WOOD.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Sophia, Bulgaria, Aug. 2, (By Mail)—From spick and span, but none the less modest Balkan capital, Sophia has become the center of the world's greatest lobby, and the lobby for the greatest thing in the world—victory in the present war.

By the vicissitudes of the present great European conflict and their peculiar geographical position Bulgaria has come more than any other to hold an influence over the future destinies of all Europe.

Were Bulgaria suddenly to join the Allies, and falling on the back of Turkey capture Constantinople from the rear, the Allies could at last pass the Dardanelles and carry to Russia the help in supplies and munition that might quickly turn the whole current of the war in their favor.

If Bulgaria continues neutral, the possibility of the capture of Constantinople from the Chatalja line is removed and the eventual passage of the Dardanelles if not rendered impossible will be so indefinitely delayed as to enable Germany in the meantime to follow up her successes against Russia and turn the whole current of the war in her favor.

This, at least, is the way the great European powers now involved in the conflict view the situation and that is why the lobby is here.

In Europe they do not call it lobbying. It passes under the more polite term of diplomacy. In reality, however, there is not a method nor a tactic known to the most common or the most distinguished lobbyist at Washington or any American state capitol that is not being used to win over the various members of the Bulgarian cabinet, the members of parliament, the political leaders, the heads of the army and even Czar Ferdinand, the Queen and the crown prince themselves. It may be that diplomacy and lobbying are merely the European and the American terms for the one and the same thing or it may be that the issue at stake is so great that the exalted and dignified diplomacy of Europe has been reduced to the methods and practices of the vulgarlest and most common of American lobbyists.

The lobby is naturally divided into two great camps, that of Germany, Austria and Turkey, and that of France, England, Russia, Italy and Serbia. To the regularly accredited diplomatic representatives of these countries there has been added a whole army of special diplomatic and other agents, every one of whom has been selected with an eye to his special qualifications either for winning over some special individual or for wielding some especial influence on the Bulgarian government as a whole.

Both camps have now made more or less concrete propositions to Bulgaria. Germany, Austria and Turkey have told her that if she will remain neutral until the end of the war they will give her all of Serbian Macedonia, which after all is the one thing Bulgaria most desires. This offer presumes a final victory for Germany in which event Serbia would become an Austrian province and would have nothing to say as to the disposition of her territory. Minor inducements also have been included in the German offer.

The allies on their part in exchange for Bulgaria's participation in the war and her capture of Constantinople from the rear have offered:

1. The bulk of what remains of the Turkish empire in Europe including the city of Adrianople which the Bulgarians captured in the first Balkan war but lost in the second.
2. Portions of Serbian Macedonia which Serbia, it is hoped at the request of the Allies will cede.

3. The best efforts of the Allies to secure from Greece and Roumania the cession of those territories which were taken from Bulgaria at the close of the second Balkan war.

In response to these offers Bulgaria has frankly admitted she is in the market not necessarily to the higher bidder but to the one who will give her the most solid guarantees that the promises made will be carried out; or rather, she demands, that in as far as possible, her compensation be given her in advance in order that there be no short change operations after the war such as she alleges were perpetrated at the close of the Balkan wars. She has expressed her readiness to treat with both sides and it is this open, receptive attitude that has resulted in the massing here of the great lobby.

In the meantime the activities of these lobbyists would be an eye opener to the most-hardened Washington veteran. To all of the well known American methods have been added all the fine ones perfected during the last half century by European diplomacy.

Naturally that of the press plays one of the most important, if sometimes ridiculous parts. Every day the English and French lobbyists come out with a bunch of official communications telling of smashing advances by the Allies troops in the campaign at Gallipoli. With equal hurrahs the Turkish lobby comes out with equally as flamboyant announcements showing that the Allied army at Gallipoli is in exactly the same position it was the day it disembarked and equally as powerless to advance as it is to retreat and be taken off by the ships. It can be safely said that no one at Sophia has the remotest idea of the actual status of the present operations against the Dardanelles. On the day I arrived here direct from the Dardanelles I fancied I knew how things were going but two days after my arrival the lobbyists had got in their fine work and I haven't the least idea.

Naturally the decision of Bulgaria is one of the most supreme importance to Turkey. In order to carry on her present effective resistance at the Dardanelles Turkey has denuded the rest of her territory of cannons and troops. Bulgaria's decision to attack her from the rear would be tantamount to the end of Turkey in Europe. Not content with sending her best diplomats and lobbyists, Talaat Bey, the minister of the interior and the most powerful man in all Turkey today, has recently visited Sophia in person in an effort to solidify an understanding.

On all sides the German lobby is admitted to have one great thing in its favor. It is not necessary to persuade Bulgaria to remain neutral. The end can be attained by merely keeping Bulgaria in such a state of indecision that before she can come to a conclusion the moment when her help would have been most effective will have passed and her actual help to the Allies rendered of little if of any value.

BIG DAY AT FAIR UP TO STANDARD

If Predicted Showers Held Off, Fair
Managers Expected Two More
Good Days.

FAIR IS BETTER THAN USUAL

Class of Entries in All Departments,
Free Attractions and Races Are
Raising the Standard.

If the predicted showers will hold off, the Rush county fair managers expected this morning to hold two more good days of the fair. Thursday was up to normal for the big day of the fair and it was hoped that Friday and Saturday would keep up the standard set by Thursday.

Some of the best part of the race program was to come when the fair opened for the fourth day this morning. It was expected to attract many of the speed fans. The fox chase was announced Thursday afternoon, to take place this afternoon. There were ten entries up to Thursday night.

This year's fair is being pronounced the best one in years because of the class of entries in all classes and because of the unusually good free attractions. There isn't any doubt but that fair patrons are receiving more for their money this year than ever before.

A crowd estimated at between two and three thousand people was on the ground Thursday night, which is by far the largest number of persons ever attending a night fair. The fireworks and other free attractions brought the people. Many remained on the grounds all day, not returning home until late at night.

News of the excellent fireworks display Wednesday night spread Thursday and was the cause of many persons attending the night fair Thursday night. The display was equally as good Thursday night as Wednesday night and caused the fair board to be commended for making possible such a praiseworthy free attraction.

The high dive took place Thursday night as scheduled and there was also a show of farm teams, light harness horses with women drivers and ponies. The tying of the ribbons in each class brought forth much applause.

The races this year are another thing that contribute much toward making the fair more popular than usual. Every heat is a horse race, and because of the larger purses, the fields are larger and the competition keener. The program this afternoon included the county road pace for a purse of fifty dollars, the 2:16 trot for two hundred and fifty dollars and the 2:25 pace for a purse of five hundred dollars.

The parade of premium winners around the big track at the conclusion of the show program today was the signal for the usual large crowd that is always interested in seeing the blue ribbon winners. The cattle classes were better this year than they have been for years, due to the fact that there were four large herds here to show. The horse classes have been up to the standard.

In no department has the excellence of the fair shown more than in the display in the floral hall. Every class is filled with exceptionally fine entries, making the competition so keen that the premiums were not all awarded until long after the time for conclusion, as arranged for on the program. Many persons familiar with the women's department declare that they doubt if there was ever a better display of needle work seen at the state fair. Floral hall

The Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity convention will close tonight with the banquet at the Windsor Hotel. Great preparations have been made for the banquet and covers will be laid for 150.

The final business session of the convention was being held this afternoon. A morning session was postponed until this afternoon and as a result there was much business to be attended to in a short time. The election of officers and selection of the next meeting place held the interest of the delegates.

The dance last night at the Social club was a brilliant affair and was attended by one hundred couples.

PROPER SCHOOL START IS NEEDED

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Makes Appeal in Behalf of People

DISCUSSES TRUANCY CASES

Says Members of Board Wish to
Urge School Officials to Get
Children Started Right

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has made a public appeal to the school patrons and others connected with the schools of the state. The appeal is intended to raise the general standard of the schools of Indiana during the year 1915-16. The appeal follows:

"At the beginning of the new school year a special effort should be made by parents, teachers and school authorities to see to it that all children of school age are enrolled at the very beginning of the school term and properly provided with books and supplies. Children who are given such an opportunity at the very opening of school will, in the vast majority of cases, become interested and attend school regularly throughout the school year and do satisfactory work.

"Children who are not given the opportunity of the right kind of a beginning very soon become discouraged, either being ahead, or because, not provided with the necessary books and supplies they become embarrassed and discouraged and naturally fail early in the term.

"To have all children in school at the opening of the term, provided with books, is not only a very important but a very difficult problem. On this account school authorities should have the hearty co-operation of teachers and parents.

"The members of truancy (Mr. Greathouse is a member of this new state board) wish to urge county and city superintendents at their opening institutes to give special attention to the matter of getting all children properly started. Superintendents and teachers, of course understand that the problem of dealing with truant children is one which needs careful study and very wise and patient treatment.

"It is impossible to deal with this subject in a wholesale manner. Each case is a special one and requires individual study. A too liberal use of force and of the courts will drive from school permanently many children who otherwise could be saved to the schools and themselves by proper encouragement."

MULL'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD HERE

Native of Rush County Who Expired
Unexpectedly in Indianapolis
Thursday Will be Buried Here.

BORN IN MANILLA IN 1868

George Mull Dies of Acute Nephritis
Brought on by Slight Injury
Sustained to Hand.

The body of George F. Mull, age forty-six years, who died at Methodist hospital in Indianapolis Thursday afternoon, was removed to the Mull homestead in Manilla today where funeral services will be held. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery here. The services will take place Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, with the Rev. V. W. Tevis in charge.

Mr. Mull's death was a big surprise here. Few people here knew that he was even in the hospital, much less in a serious condition. His demise was due to acute nephritis which developed from blood poisoning brought on by a bruise which Mr. Mull sustained a little less than three weeks ago while moving a desk in his office in Indianapolis.

Mr. Mull was born in Manilla, December 7, 1868, and he received his early education in the common schools of Rush county. Later he attended DePauw University, from which he was graduated in 1892. He was graduated from the Yale Law School in 1893, and after his graduation he went to Indianapolis. He read law in the office of W. A. Ketchum for a year and in 1895 he formed a partnership for the practice of the legal profession with Frank T. Edenharter.

Mr. Mull and Mr. Edenharter maintained law offices in the Indiana Trust Company Building and practiced under the firm name of Edenharter & Mull continuously since 1895 until about a month ago, when the partnership was dissolved and Mr. Mull opened an office with Louis H. C. Flinn at 512 Indiana Trust Building.

Mr. Mull had long been an active worker in the ranks of the Republican party, but he never held public office or aspired to any. He was president of the Columbia Club in 1904 and he was treasurer of the Marion County Republican central committee for several years. Mr. Mull also was a Scottish Rite Mason and a member of Murat Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Indianapolis. He was also a member of the Social club here.

In the days of his early practice in Indianapolis Mr. Mull was very active socially, and he enjoyed great popularity. He was one of the organizers of the Aquatic Club, in Indianapolis, a pioneer among the organizations taking advantage of sites on White River for summer recreation.

Mr. Mull never married. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Mull; two brothers, Thomas H. and Leonidas Mull, and a sister, Mary M. Mull, of Manilla. He was a brother of the late Frank Mull of this city.

"Mr. Mull was an amiable man and had a personality that caused him to be well liked," said Mr. Edenharter yesterday. "Mr. Mull had a particularly desire to be helpful in every way he could to his clients."

Dr. James H. Taylor, an intimate friend of Mr. Mull, attended him in his illness. Dr. Taylor said that Mr. Mull had been in failing health for several months, but that he would not have died if the infection from the recent accident had not caused complications in his disease. The

AUDITOR OF STATE INJURED IN MISHAP

Dale J. Crittenger Hurt at Anderson When Machine Load of Men Turns Over.

THOUGHT NOT TO BE SERIOUS

(By United Press.)

Anderson, Ind., August 27.—Dale J. Crittenger, auditor of state and editor of the Anderson Bulletin, was painfully injured today following an auto accident at midnight. The auto in which he was riding with Mayor H. Mellett, State Senator Fred Van Nuys, Representative Lynfield Myers and Deputy Clerk Wesley Sheppard overturned when they were returning from a meeting at Elwood.

Crittenger suffered severe bruises about the chest. He was hurried to this city and taken to his home. It was thought no bones were broken and that no internal injuries resulted. His right leg was wrenched at the knee and he suffered a nervous shock.

Mayor Mellett, who was the first to extricate himself from the wreck, lifted the car enough to release Van Nuys. The motor was still running and the lights were on.

SATISFACTION IN FULL OFFERED

Ambassador Bernstorff Lets it be
Known What Berlin's Attitude
of Arabic Sinking is.

DANGER OF FRICTION OVER

If Torpedoed by German Submarine,
Commander Exceeded His Authority, it is Stated.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, August 27.—German Ambassador Bernstorff today assured Secretary Lansing that if a German submarine torpedoed the liner Arabic, its commander exceeded his instructions, and "full satisfaction" would be accorded the United States.

It was learned today on unofficial but unquestionable authority that following points will be made by the Berlin government in its statement to the administration:

It was never German's policy to torpedo passengers-carrying ships without warning.

German submarine commanders were always instructed to let those on board escape before sinking a merchantman.

If any submarine commander did otherwise he acted contrary to orders.

If this were not true the destruction of unarmed enemy merchantmen would have been greater.

This information, in part at least, has already reached the state department. Ambassador Bernstorff remarked that the offer of "full satisfaction" was considerably further than Germany had hitherto gone. He plainly considered all danger of German-American friction over.

Considerable confidential information from Ambassador Gerard, Berlin, was reaching the state department today, Secretary Lansing. German Ambassador Bernstorff called at the state department at 10:05 today for a short talk. He would not discuss the nature of his business or say whether he had received further instructions from Berlin.

What may be regarded as Germany's preliminary explanation of the Arabic sinking was, in the hands of the state department today. Its tenor may be known before night.

DANIELS WILL TAKE NEW IDEAS

Secretary of Navy Not Too Proud to Listen to Suggestion For Improving Naval Academy.

IS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

Going to Apply Some "Safety-First"
Principles in Examination
Rooms.

BY F. A. CONNOLLY.
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels isn't too proud to listen to suggestions for improving Uncle Sam's private school for naval officers at Annapolis. The institution is being run on a creditable plan at present, the Navy Department contends, but any idea worth while will receive Mr. Daniel's due consideration. All the late scandal there wouldn't be scandal, it is argued, if the school did not have a good system of government and a fair reputation to uphold.

The late "gouging" revelations," however, have shown there is room for improvement. So the Secretary, realizing that his is not the only Academy in the country, has been trying to find out how the others are run. There are at least fifty other educational establishments where young men are governed by stringent systems. Now the head of the navy figures that in fifty such places there must be some differences in regulations and discipline. If any of them have better than Uncle Sam, he wants to incorporate them into his own. Secretary Daniels has written to the Presidents of these schools asking concerning the rules and practices observed in their institutions.

The Secretary expects these queries to be answered in the course of time and is in no hurry about them.
When he gets them all in he will look them over and pick out the ideas that he can use. He will weave the best of those that he can into the Annapolis system and those that he can't he is very apt to ask Congress to weave in for him.

"Gouging" and "flazing" are going to go. The Secretary is specially interested in the way examinations are conducted elsewhere, and is going to apply some of the safety-first principles in the examination room. The next modern language test won't be cribbed, and the upper class drill masters won't drill under class men in "mutter along the lines as the coming exam" the night before that event takes place. If he has to, Mr. Daniels will look the papers in a steel box as soon as they are made up or carry them in his vest pocket to prevent young prospectives from getting at their contents.

Hazing doesn't occur often. There is a law against that and it doesn't matter whether the offense is grave or insignificant, the law is law. Occasionally a first offender gets off with a severe reprimand, but second offenders "get the boot," and they know what to expect. In this respect discipline isn't often broken.

Uncle Sam has been wondering what has become of all the inform-
ers. From the Treasury Department recently came the answer,
"We're paying them too much money."

Prior to August 21, 1913, one who gave information leading to conviction of a moonshiner received only $10 and was happy. Then the fee was boosted to $50 just to encourage others to give away their lawless neighbors, but strange to say the increase has had a markedly contrary effect. With the business all but gone to the bow-wows, Secretary McAdoo restored the old fee. The result is awaited with interest.

West Virginia produced 71,707,
620 tons of coal in 1914, worth about $1 a ton at the mine. No other state did this well.

The United States produced
$5,706,787 worth of slate in 1914.

In the evidence it was brought out that Charles Sorrell had assaulted Roy E. Black a policeman at the fair grounds. He was arrested and placed under $25 bond.
Jesse Sorrell was defended by George Young. The charge against him was the result of a fight Tues-

HEARS VOICE ACROSS AMERICA ON PHONE

Mrs. Lenora Blackledge, Who is Attending Exposition, Tells of Unique Experience

SEES TELEPHONE EXHIBIT

While standing on the Pacific seaboard, Mrs. Lenora Blackledge, of this city, who is attending the Panama-Pacific exposition, heard the waves of the Atlantic beating against the shore. She heard them over the telephone. An extract from her letter tells of the unusual experience:

We went to see the Bell telephone exhibit at the fair yesterday. We were there over one hour and heard an illustrated lecture on the Bell telephone and saw how they invented, perfected and built the phone across the deserts and mountains. It is wonderful and ended by all of us putting receivers to our ears. We then called up the operator in New York city 3400 miles away. We heard him read headlines in N. Y. papers about the war in Europe and Mexico. Then we heard the victrola going. Later we heard it play "Old Kentucky Home." We could hear it plainly. Then, here by the Pacific, we heard the waves beating on the shore. Then a girl from the audience talked to an operator in Philadelphia. She invited him to lunch at the Cliff house. We heard every word easily.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Factor)

"The real secret of keeping young looking and beautiful," says a well-known specialist, "is to keep the liver and bowels in normal active condition. Without these requisite organs, the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, cannot become healthy, robust, and generally vigorous. It is not, as is so often said, a matter of skin, but of the internal organs." "Sentinel" tablets, without producing any ill effects, have been the problem of specialists, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humblest of plants, the "sentinel" which has been called "vegetable calomel" because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not so to be classed with the real calomel of medicine. Such a habit-forming constituent in "sentinel" tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or acidity. They do not, as is so often said, "send" the bowels, but they do impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. "Sentinel" tablets, which may be had at any drug store, will, if used as directed, will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blisters, Sallow Skin

(Message of Health)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels, and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish and shortsighted to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost, no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel" tablets—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. "Sentinel" tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but after the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

"They say that the advent of the 'sentinel' tablet," says a well-known specialist, "has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives."

"Sentinel" tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "artificial habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranes lining the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they act so gently, so easily, that they are so much preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inoffensiveness is another reason for the popularity of "sentinel" tablets. One who procures only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the "ideal" remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Drug Store Review.

America First

There is a deepening conviction here that the crisis that confront the nation in its foreign relations demand the subordination of pro-British and pro-German sentiment and the ascendancy of an intrinsically pro-American spirit. And there is unmistakably the development of such an attitude with full consciousness of America's importance in international affairs, which the war has made more evident than ever before.

The outward and visible sign of this pro-American spirit is seen in busy men of affairs going off to the camp at Plattsburg for military training, and in the awakening of the people and the National Administration to the necessity of military and naval preparedness.

It is seen, too, in the increasing insistence of the public upon the preservation of all. Nation's neutral rights upon the high seas and the protection of American commerce from illegal interference as well as the defence of American lives.

Instead of two conflicting points of view cropping up irreconcilable in public discussions, it is noticeable more and more that there is only one point of view—the American. The acid point of test of all propositions is how America will be affected—not whether it will serve Allied interest or Teutonic interests.

And this is the test that is being applied unsparringly to the efforts to win popular approval of the contentions of foreign powers. A passing sensation has been created by imagining an organized propaganda and calling frantically for its suppression. But America is not afraid to have any man or nation present its cause to the public, feeling strong in the knowledge that the American public will decide all such questions from the patriotic pro-American point of view.

Not any newspaper, however, powerful it may seem, or however clever in serving a cause, could prevail against the sturdy pro-American sentiment that permeates all the people regardless of their individual origin.

Still They Come.

Philip W. Carter of Newton, Mass., who was one of the organizers of the Progressive party in Massachusetts, and who for the last three years has served as a member of the state committee, as a member of the finance committee, as treasurer of the 13th district congressional committee, and later still as the treasurer of the financial auditing committee, has returned to the Republican fold. Mr. Carter made his purpose known through a letter to a Republican friend. "My reasons for several relations with the Progressive organization at this time are twofold," he wrote.

First of all, it is apparent that the Progressive party is no longer held in respect by the vast majority of the voters in this state. My second reason for leaving the party at this time is my conviction that this is a two party country. I doubt if any third party can ever survive. In the future I look to a line-up of the radicals on the one hand and the conservatives on the other.

"There is no chance to accomplish anything by continuing to act as an 'assistant Democrat.' Should I be asked by my old Republican friends why I did not join the Democratic party, in view of the fact that their platforms more nearly resembles the Progressive platform. I would reply that I am not joining them, because the Democratic party is at heart more reactionary."

In the presence of this burden some "war tax," we recall with interest the words of Representative Cox of this city, Feb. 21, 1914. Speaking to Mr. Fitzgerald of New York, he asked: "If this extravagance . . . these enormous appropriations are not stopped in some way, does not the gentlemen believe that in the course of a short time the Government will have to come to a system of direct taxation, such as it had in 1861 to carry on the war?" Democracy surely received timely warning.

The total exports from Leeds England for the six months ended June 30, 1915, amounted to 392,850, as compared with $1,222,957 for the corresponding half year of 1914. The decrease may be said to be almost entirely due to conditions brought about by the European war. Consider how many other towns in Europe are similarly situated, and which, but for the war, would be flooding this country with duty free goods, paralyzing industry and filling the country with idle men.

Representative Carlin of Virginia says the issue next year will not be the tariff, but "the foreign policy of the Administration." He must be mistaken.

Solving Dyestuff Problem

(Washington, D. C. Post)

Not long ago it was reported that large amounts of American capital were ready for the investment in the manufacture of dyestuffs, but large mills continue to close their doors because of the failure to get dyestuffs from Germany.

Great Britain has not yet been persuaded to lift the embargo on the dyes that are awaiting shipment in Germany. Her control of the seas enables her to force the closing of scores of American textile mills. Meanwhile England herself is manufacturing textiles and selling them in competition with the United States. She is using the war for her own commercial advantage and not merely for the purpose of starving out Germany.

It must be clear by this time that the administration, if it wishes Americans to manufacture their own dyestuffs, must meet the situation frankly. There has been a determined effort by administration officials to avoid the obvious necessity of a protective tariff. The various substitutes which have been suggested, such as an antidumping clause which would prevent Germany from deluging the American market as soon as the war is over, do not meet the situation.

The party in power may just as well recognize that capital will not be invested in the manufacture of dyestuffs in this country until there is a protective tariff that will equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. Germany has mastered the art of making dyestuffs. The business is in its infancy in the United States. Aside from the disadvantage of inexperience, there is the additional disadvantage that comes to the Americans by reason of the payment of a higher standard of wages.

Just as the tin plate, silk and other industries have been built up in the United States so can the dyestuff industry be built up. Until the government adopts the remedy which has been used so successfully in the past the country must continue to depend upon the favor of foreign countries.

SLAVERY IN INDIANA

Despite the anti-slavery provision in the Ordinance of 1787, there was a strong sentiment in favor of slavery in Indiana Territory. Gov. W. H. Harrison presided at a convention in Vincennes in 1802 when Congress was asked to suspend prohibition for ten years as slaves were needed to develop the country. The U. S. census returns show that there were 190 slaves in the state in 1820. The last negro slave in Indiana is said to have died in 1843.

KINDRED BODIES ASKED TO HELP

Commercial Organizations Throughout State Urged to Get Behind National Guard Propaganda.

RESOLUTIONS ARE SENT OUT

Particular Stress is Laid on "War in Indiana," Huge Spectacle to be Presented.

Indianapolis, August 27.—Commercial organization throughout the state of Indiana are soon to become active factors in propagating the campaign for a bigger and better national guard which is being conducted by the Indianapolis Armory Building Association.

Copies of resolutions endorsing the project, adopted by various Indianapolis trade bodies, including the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, the Employers' Association, the Rotary Club, and the Jovian League, have been forwarded kindred organizations in other cities, in order to enlist their support.

It is felt that the response of these organizations will be generous, inasmuch as the Indianapolis movement is of statewide import, concerning South Bend just as much as it does Vincennes. No city of the state that is not interested in the maintenance of an efficient national guard, with adequate local armories.

Particular stress in the appeal of the Indianapolis association is laid upon "War in Indiana," the huge war spectacle to be staged at the Indianapolis motor speedway, Monday, Sept. 6, for the purpose of releasing the $20,000 appropriated by the state of Indiana for an armory to some other city than Indianapolis.

It is pointed out that not only will "War in Indiana," be the most spectacular event the state has ever seen, with its 2,500 men and 350,000 rounds of ammunition, but that it is held from a particularly unselfish motive as well. Indianapolis business men, it is clearly shown, have the interest of the state very much at heart. It therefore behooves other cities to join them.

AMATEUR CRACKS MEET AT DETROIT

Best Golfers in America Out of Professional Class Will Compete

MEETING OPENS TOMORROW

Tournament is Blue Ribbon Event of Year in Golf Circles—Notables to Participate

(By United Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—Detroit tomorrow will be host to the crack amateur golfers of America and, in seven days of play, the twenty-first annual championship of the United States Golf association will be determined. The play will be on the Detroit Country club links.

The tournament is the blue ribbon event of the year in golf circles.

A J. Caldwell, secretary of the tournament committee, declared today the entry list is one of the best and largest in the history of the meet. Practically all of the stars in the country will participate, including the following: Jerome D. Travers, "Chick" Evans, Francis Ouimet, W. C. Fownes Jr., G. A. Ormiston, Ned Sawyer, E. H. Bankhard, Harry Davis, R. Y. Hayne, Donald Edwards, Kenneth Edwards, George Lyle, Albert Seckel, Walter Egan and Jimmy Standish.

Of this list, Travers and Fownes are the only former champions, but "Chick" Evans, western amateur champion, Harry Davis, Panama-Pacific title-holder, R. Y. Hayne, coast champion, and Albert Seckel winner of the 1911 western championship, are expected to offer opposition that will make Champton Ouimet show his best to retain the title he annexed last year.

Seven days will be devoted to the playing off of the national championship, the qualifying round starting early tomorrow. Only 18 holes will be played the first day. Monday, the wedding-out process will be continued, but this time over the 36-hole course. Medal play will rule on both days.

Match play for 36-hole rounds will start Tuesday and continue until Friday, when the semi-finals will be reached. The finals will be staged Saturday.

The Country Club course is reported to be in excellent condition for the start of plays. Varden and Ray, the British cracks, have pronounced the course one of the three best in America, ranking it with the Mayfield links, at Cleveland, and the Toronto Ont., course.

The many social activities that will feature the tournament will start tonight when the Country Club will entertain officers of the United States Golf Association at a banquet.

Indianapolis, Aug. 27.—Having completed an organization as efficient and thorough as any political organization Charles A. Greathouse himself an alumnus of the university has appointed a graduate in each county to round up all the alumni and bring them to Indianapolis for the game, which because of its inter-sectional nature will be one of the biggest games played in the state this fall.

Close finishes and split heats were again the rule at the Rush county fair races Thursday afternoon. The three races on the program were closely contested, but the favorites won in every race but one.

In the 2:30 trot, the stake race for $500, Hesitate was picked as the winner and after taking the first two heats in comparative easy manner, gave way to Lottie DeForest and Westport. The race was won by Lottie DeForest although Westport took the last two heats in a driving finish. Lottie DeForest finished second in all but one heat, the third, when she finished first.

Hesitate apparently was driven faster than she could stand and fell down towards the end of the race. In the fourth heat Lottie DeForest was driven to beat Hesitate and Wasson driving Westport slipped around both of them on the outside of the track and won the heat in a close finish.

In the third heat of the 2:24 trot a spill on the back turn resulted when Virginia Wilkes ran into Gypsy Fuller's sulky. The drivers were not injured. It was the first spill of the meeting.

In the 2:24 trot Richard R. took the race in straight heats after finishing in fourth place the first heat. He got away to a bad start and pulled up in fourth position. The first heat was won by Nellie W. but Richard R. proved the best horse and captured the second, third and fourth heats in a rather easy manner. The Tennessee horse was never forced and made the second heat in 2:21 1/4.

In the 2:30 pace Charles C. had everything his own way and won in straight heats, over a field of eight starters. It was a fight for second money between Minnie Ann and Long Sought. Long Sought was beaten on for second by finishing in sixth place in the second heat. He took second in the first and final heats. The time in each heat was the same it being 2:17 1/4.

The three races were pulled off in good time. The drivers were kept on the move and there were no long delays. The program was finished shortly after five o'clock despite the fact that it was rather long.

Recent Law Provides For Institute of Only Township and City School Teachers.

FIRST ONE HERE NEXT WEEK

Due to an oversight of the legislators in the last session of the Indiana general assembly, school teachers in Indiana towns will not have to attend institutes until the law is changed. C. M. George, county superintendent of schools, called attention to the fact today that the law says township and city school teachers shall meet in institute monthly. This eliminates the teachers of the Carthage school, which is the only town school in the county.

The preliminary institute for the teachers of the county will be held in the court house Saturday, September 4, the county superintendent announced today. Indiana and all of its various phases of life will be studied this year. The county superintendent said the subject was selected because 1916 is centennial year in the state. The city school teachers, which means only Rushville teachers in this county, will hold separate institutes, according to the new law.

MORE THAN 200,000 PRISONERS TAKEN

Several Thousand Cannon and Enough Rifles to Supply Army Captured by Germans.

SINCE THE FALL OF WARSAW

(By United Press.)

Berlin, August 27.—More than 200,000 prisoners, several thousand cannon and enough rifles to supply several army divisions have been taken by the Austro-Germans since the fall of Warsaw.

In the past three weeks the Slavs have been driven back more than one hundred miles on their center. All their first line defenses have been captured and the fall of Brest Litovsk leaves only the fortress of Grodno of the second line still in the hands of the grand duke's troops. Grodno's surrender to Von Hindenberg is expected before the end of the week.

For the second time the German admiralty today issued a statement saying the Russian admiralty claim that the battle cruiser Moltke and other German ships have been destroyed in the Gulf Riga was a "fake."

"No such battle took place," the admiralty stated.

AMERICANS INVEST CAPITAL IN CHINA

Amos Bird Company Discovers Dried-Egg Plant in Shanghai is a Good Investment

DUTY CUT IN LAST TARIFF

Washington, Aug. 27.—The Amos Bird Company, a Connecticut concern with head offices at Boston, Mass., has discovered that, under the Democratic tariff law, the establishment of a dried-egg plant in Shanghai, China, is a good investment.

The Department of Commerce reports that the company has about completed the construction of a huge cold-storage warehouse containing the most modern evaporating and refrigerating apparatus. All arrangements have been completed for getting supplies of material converting it into the product and transporting it to this country for the use of restaurants and bakeries. It will come into active competition with American eggs.

This adds another to the long list of industries which are being organized abroad with American capital to reap the double advantage of cheap labor and a free, or tariff-for-revenue-only, American market. The duty on dried eggs was cut 33 and one-third per cent by the Underwood tariff law, since the enactment of which enormous quantities of this product have been coming in from China. A recent report issued by the Department of Commerce states that consignments of preserved eggs from Nanking, China, amounted to 7,500,000 pounds for New York City and 656,000 for Seattle. These eggs are purchased in China, for preserving, at 40 to 42 cents a gross.

IS NOW WORLD'S GREATEST LOBBY

Sophia Evolves From Modest Little

Balkan Capital to Bickering Place of Diplomats

POSSIBILITIES EITHER WAY

Allies Offer, Among Other Things,

Bulk of Turkish Empire in Europe For Bulgarian Help

BY HENRY WOOD.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Sophia, Bulgaria, Aug. 2, (By Mail)—From spick and span, but none the less modest Balkan capital, Sophia has become the center of the world's greatest lobby, and the lobby for the greatest thing in the world—victory in the present war.

By the vicissitudes of the present great European conflict and their peculiar geographical position Bulgaria has come more than any other to hold an influence over the future destinies of all Europe.

Were Bulgaria suddenly to join the Allies, and falling on the back of Turkey capture Constantinople from the rear, the Allies could at last pass the Dardanelles, and carry to Russia the help in supplies and munition that might quickly turn the whole current of the war in their favor.

If Bulgaria continues neutral, the possibility of the capture of Constantinople from the Chatalja line is removed and the eventual passage of the Dardanelles if not rendered impossible will be so indefinitely delayed as to enable Germany in the meantime to follow up her successes against Russia and turn the whole current of the war in her favor.

This, at least, is the way the great European powers now involved in the conflict view the situation and that is why the lobby is here.

In Europe they do not call it lobbying. It passes under the more polite term of diplomacy. In reality, however, there is not a method nor a tactic known to the most common or the most distinguished lobbyist at Washington or any American state capital that is not being used to win over the various members of the Bulgarian cabinet, the members of parliament, the political leaders, the heads of the army and even Czar Ferdinand, the Queen and the crown prince themselves. It may be that diplomacy and lobbying are merely the European and the American terms for the one and the same thing or it may be that the issue at stake is so great that the exalted and dignified diplomacy of Europe has been reduced to the methods and practices of the vulgar and most common of American lobbyists.

The lobby is naturally divided into two great camps, that of Germany, Austria and Turkey, and that of France, England, Russia, Italy and Serbia. To the regularly accredited diplomatic representatives of these countries there has been added a whole army of special diplomatic and other agents, every one of whom has been selected with an eye to his special qualifications either for winning over some special individual or for wielding some especial influence on the Bulgarian government as a whole.

Both camps have now made more or less concrete propositions to Bulgaria. Germany, Austria and Turkey have told her that if she will remain neutral until the end of the war they will give her all of Serbian Macedonia, which after all is the one thing Bulgaria most desires. This offer presumes a final victory for Germany in which event Serbia would become an Austrian province and would have nothing to say as to the disposition of her territory. Minor inducements also have been included in the German offer.

The allies on their part in exchange for Bulgaria's participation in the war and her capture of Constantinople from the rear have offered:

1. The bulk of what remains of the Turkish empire in Europe including the city of Adrianople which the Bulgarians captured in the first Balkan war but lost in the second.
2. Portions of Serbian Macedonia which Serbia, it is hoped, at the request of the Allies will cede.

The best efforts of the Allies to secure from Greece and Roumania the cession of those territories which were taken from Bulgaria at the close of the second Balkan war.

In response to these offers Bulgaria has frankly admitted she is in the market not necessarily to the higher bidder but to the one who will give her the most solid guarantees that the promises made will be carried out; or rather, she demands, that in as far as possible, her compensation be given her in advance in order that there be no short change operations after the war such as she alleges were perpetrated at the close of the Balkan wars. She has expressed her readiness to treat with both sides and it is this open, receptive attitude that has resulted in the massing here of the great lobby.

In the meantime the activities of these lobbyists would be an eye opener to the most-hardened Washington veteran. To all of the well known American methods have been added all the fine ones perfected during the last half century by European diplomacy.

Naturally that of the press plays one of the most important, if sometimes ridiculous parts. Every day the English and French lobbyists come out with a bunch of official communications telling of smashing advances by the Allies troops in the campaign at Gallipoli. With equal hurrahs the Turkish lobby comes out with equally as flamboyant announcements showing that the Allied army at Gallipoli is in exactly the same position it was the day it disembarked and equally as powerless to advance as it is to retreat and be taken off by the ships. It can be safely said that no one at Sophia has the remotest idea of the actual status of the present operations against the Dardanelles. On the day I arrived here direct from the Dardanelles I fancied I knew how things were going but two days after my arrival the lobbyists had got in their fine work and I haven't the least idea.

Naturally the decision of Bulgaria is one of the most supreme importance to Turkey. In order to carry on her present effective resistance at the Dardanelles Turkey has demanded the rest of her territory of cannons and troops. Bulgaria's decision to attack her from the rear would be tantamount to the end of Turkey in Europe. Not content with sending her best diplomats and lobbyists, Talaat Bey, the minister of the interior and the most powerful man in all Turkey today, has recently visited Sophia in person in an effort to solidify an understanding.

On all sides the German lobby is admitted to have one great thing in its favor. It is not necessary to persuade Bulgaria to remain neutral. The end can be attained by merely keeping Bulgaria in such a state of indecision that before she can come to a conclusion the moment when her help would have been most effective will have passed and her actual help to the Allies rendered of little if of any value.
